"that noble and immortal nation...Greece"

--- WINSTON CHURCHILL

The glory of Greece lives, --- it is not dead.

Mussolini, today, knows this.

So does the world.

Greece, to whom civilization owes so much, is today once more fighting the battle of Thermopylae.

Once again the world sees an intrepid people true to their ideals. They are choosing death on the battlefield that Greece, and freedom, may live.

And today, because of the indomitable courage of a country no bigger than Pennsylvania, new hope rises in the hearts of other stricken peoples, and of free men everywhere.

Dear Librarian:

When Greece was fighting for her very existence as a nation, you showed your sympathetic concern by contributing to help us rush life-saving food, clothing and medicines to the suffering Greek people.

The men, women and children of Greece are now free from foreign tyranny, but they are still on the verge of starvation, ravaged by disease and living in flimsy makeshift shelters. Their only hope for the future lies in help from America.

Since liberation, the courageous Greeks have labored tirelessly to rebuild their shattered country. In this herculean task they have been aided by UNRRA and the Greek War Relief Association. Valuable as this assistance has been, it has done little more than start Greece on the road to recovery. Now UNRRA has ceased operations and the Greek War Relief must be prepared to carry a larger share of relief activities on behalf of the Greek people. The proposed United States Government loan to Greece will not be a substitute for private relief since it will be used chiefly for stabilization of the political and economic situation. It must be supplemented by immediate private relief if the Greek people are not to re-live the tragic misery of the war and occupation.

The $12,000,000 fund-raising campaign which the Greek War Relief is now conducting will provide permanent and emergency medical centers to combat tuberculosis, malaria and malnutrition diseases which now claim 3,000,000 victims. It will support 2,000 school canteens for undernourished children. It will find foster homes for thousands of homeless orphans. These bewildered children are the most tragic legacy of the war--the future of Greece depends on their rehabilitation and protection.

MEMORANDUM #1

To All Affiliated Committees

Re: Organization of Committees

In the opinion of many persons throughout the United States, medical aid and other forms of relief to Russia is of imperative urgency. Russian War Relief, Inc. has been formed to fulfill practically and efficiently the generous impulses of the American people in admiration of the heroic stand of the Russian people against Hitlerism and the aim of all freedom-loving people to insure our common safety. The following procedure is outlined to assist local committees to so organize themselves and their activities that the objectives of Russian War Relief may be attained with the fullest utilization of the energies employed.

To obtain the widest support for this cause, it is necessary that prominent individuals representing social, industrial, church, financial, commercial, cultural and labor elements be drawn together for discussion of the subject of aid to Russia. The initiative for calling these individuals together should come from a prominent leader in the community to insure cooperation and seriousness of purpose. Better still, the call for this meeting might come jointly from three or four leaders who have agreed to assume responsibility.

Out of this discussion should come a general agreement to form in the City of _____ a Russian War Relief, Inc. Committee. Officers should be elected consisting particularly of Chairman, Treasurer and Secretary, who may be elected on a temporary basis pending the full organization of the committee, after which permanent officers should be selected. It is advisable that the permanent treasurer be a banker so that he can name an assistant treasurer from his bank who is always available to sign checks.

Having accomplished the initial stage, application for affiliation (forms to be provided by the National Office) should be forwarded to Headquarters in New York, together with information regarding the names and addresses of the principal officers and, if possible, the names and addresses of all members of the committee. The National Office, after having assured itself that the committee broadly represents the community, will issue a charter entitling the committee to affiliation with Russian War Relief, Inc. and will designate the _____ Committee to act as its representative. In this connection, it is desirable that the membership of the local committees be equally divided, as much as possible, between men and women. In authorizing the local committees to represent Russian War Relief, Inc., National Headquarters naturally retains the right to withdraw its authorization when discretion seems necessary.

STATEMENT ON RELATION OF RUSSIAN WAR RELIEF, INC. TO AMERICAN RED CROSS AND WAR RELIEF EFFORTS

Edward C. Carter, President, Russian War Relief, Inc.

LIBR. NY SEP 19 1978 EXCHANGE AND GIFT

December [illegible]

As to the relations of Russian War Relief, Inc. and the American Red Cross, the following may be of some assistance:

STAGE I. It was only after three conversations with Norman Davis that we decided to form a new organization. On each occasion he told us the following: First, there were a number of difficulties in the way of the American Red Cross offering help to Russia; Second, he did sincerely hope that a substantial committee for aid to Russia, independent of the Red Cross, would be formed.

STAGE II. The announcement of our first goal of one million dollars brought an unexpectedly favorable editorial response. A few days later it was possible for the Red Cross to offer to make an allocation of two million dollars to Russia.

STAGE III. When it was suggested that we might retire from the field, the hope was expressed that we might remain in the field and the hope was further expressed by representatives of our Government and the Soviet Government that all American private effort could channel either of two agencies, that is the Red Cross or Russian War Relief.

STAGE IV. To prevent competition in the purchasing of supplies, one conference has been held in Washington attended by representatives of O.P.M., Lease-Lend, Surgeon General's office, the American Red Cross, Russian War Relief, and Amtorg. A second conference of this sort is to be held in Washington tomorrow. Every effort is being made to see that there is no competition in the market and at the same time that Russian War Relief uses its facilities for purchasing independently. A representative of O.P.M. has indicated that Russian War Relief should be given the same priority as the American Red Cross.

STAGE V. At the meeting of the Board on November 24th, Mr. Wardwell and I made the following statements:

Mr. Allen Wardwell gave a brief report on his trip to Russia as a delegate of Russian War Relief, Inc. and of the American Red Cross. He stated that the American Red Cross has concluded an agreement with the Soviet Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies for the distribution of relief supplies in Russia, and recommended that supplies from Russian War Relief, Inc.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA RWR EXPANDS WITH NEW SHOPS, NEW ACTIVITIES, NEW COMMITTEES

RUSSIAN BALL IN SAN FRANCISCO WILL CELEBRATE RUSSIAN INDEPENDENCE

San Franciscans will celebrate the "Russian Fourth of July" with a Grand Ball at the Fairmont Hotel Saturday evening, November 7, from 10:00 P.M. to 2:00 A.M.

The celebration is in accord with the spirit of the Congress of American-Soviet Friendship in New York, of which Corliss Lamont is chairman and the Hon. Joseph E. Davies, former U.S. Ambassador to the U.S.S.R., is honorary chairman.

"A group of prominent citizens believe it is fitting that an occasion be afforded for the people of the United States to give popular expression to their admiration for the gallant struggle of the Soviet people against the invader," Mr. Davies said in calling the Congress.

"The purpose of the movement is to promote better understanding and cooperation between our two great peoples, who have long been linked by historic tradition, by the similar vastness of their land, by a like robust, pioneering and dauntless spirit. Today we are linked more closely as we fight together with Britain, China, and the other United Nations for the principles of the Atlantic Charter."

The ball will climax Russian Day in the current War Chest campaign to raise $3,120,000.00 for foreign and domestic relief, and will constitute RWR's contribution to help publicize the drive in San Francisco.

The Fairmont Hotel has donated its ballroom for the occasion. Tickets are on sale for $1.40 each at the headquarters shop, 422 Sutter Street; the Thrift Shop, 98 Golden Gate Avenue; the Fairmont Hotel; Russian American Society, 68 Post Street; and American Russian Institute, 101 Post Street.

SAN FRANCISCO OPENS NEW HEADQUARTERS, SHOP AT 422 SUTTER STREET

Expanding activities in San Francisco have resulted in the opening of a new shop and Northern California headquarters at 422 Sutter Street, to replace the former offices at the Russ Building.

The groundfloor space with large show windows brings us into closer contact with the public and provides a new outlet for the sale of official RWR merchandise.

Lucian Labaudt, Sigismund Sazevich, and Eugene Ivanov, San Francisco artists, designed and arranged the effective window displays, one showing a Russian winter scene and the other depicting the battle of Stalingrad.

The shop was donated by Walter H. Sullivan and furnishings supplied by the City of Paris. W.H.Sloane loaned additional furniture for the opening reception on October 29.

The new shop does not, of course, replace the Thrift Shop and Knitting Center at 98 Golden Gate Avenue, which continues to function as in the past.

---o---

Miss Harriet Eddy, chairman of the Palo Alto Seed Campaign, has returned after an extended visit in the East, where she visited RWR headquarters in a number of cities.

RESOLUCIONES SOBRE LA POLÍTICA A SEGUIR POR LA ADMINISTRACIÓN DE SOCORROS Y REHABILITACIÓN DE LAS NACIONES UNIDAS ADOPTADAS POR EL CONSEJO EN SU PRIMERA SESIÓN

El 9 de noviembre de 1943 suscribieron las cuarenta y cuatro Naciones Unidas o Asociadas el Convenio que establecía la Administración de Socorros y Rehabilitación. Al día siguiente se reunieron los representantes de dichas naciones en Atlantic City, New Jersey, para celebrar la Primera Sesión del Consejo establecido en virtud de dicho Convenio, con el fin de organizar la Administración y sentar las bases de una amplia política que guiara sus actividades.

Ante sí tenían dichos representantes la tarea de iniciar medidas que cristalizaran la decisión de las cuarenta y cuatro naciones de hacer que los pueblos de las regiones liberadas por las fuerzas armadas de las Naciones Unidas reciban alivio a sus sufrimientos, víveres, ropa, albergue, y ayuda en la prevención de epidemias y en la restauración de la salud pública, así como hacer los arreglos y preparativos necesarios para que prisioneros y exilados regresen a sus hogares, y ayudar a reanudar la producción agrícola e industrial de urgente necesidad y a restaurar los servicios más necesarios.

Para ello urgía considerar el radio de las actividades que debía emprender la Administración; el procedimiento para obtener abastecimientos y distribuir su costo de la manera más equitativa posible; métodos para prorratear y distribuir equitativamente dichos abastecimientos, y otros puntos relacionados de manera más particular con la administración de las medidas de socorro y rehabilitación en el exterior y con las relaciones que debían mantenerse con otros gobiernos y organismos. Finalmente era necesario establecer un reglamento que rigiera el funcionamiento de la Administración misma, a fin de garantizar la representación efectiva de las naciones interesadas en la formulación de la política general a seguir por la Administración, y de facilitar las labores del Director General al poner en efecto tal política.

El resultado de las deliberaciones del Consejo consta en las resoluciones que siguen.
